Community Impact Fund volunteers constantly evaluate local health and human care data and program metrics to assess how well critical needs are being met. We make sure we have reliable information and situational awareness so we have a better understanding of resource allocations. By helping United Way "look under the hood" of local programs, the process allows us to adjust how we invest the community's donations as times and situations change." - Monica Hendrickson, Peoria City/County Health Department and United Way Board Member

COMMUNITY IMPACT FUND PROCESS

Through a multi-year grant process, the Heart of Illinois United Way Community Impact Fund provides a reliable and steady source of income for our partner agencies. Funding over multiple years also enables the Heart of Illinois United Way to:

- Provide stability and continuity to agencies and donors
- Spend more time evaluating and measuring outcomes
- Maximize the impact of funded programs
- Collaborate with community partners

Each year of the multi-year cycle, builds upon the level of data and evaluation that is reported as program outputs and outcomes:

1st In the 1st year (2018-2019), agency grant applications are evaluated by a scoring rubric focused on: community need, client management, program staff, leadership, projected outputs and outcomes, program structure and financial health.

2nd In the 2nd year (2019-2020), funded programs are evaluated by a scoring rubric focused on: engagement and communication of agency staff, client management, funding and capacity, outputs and outcomes, and continuous improvement plans.

3rd In the 3rd year (2020-2021), evaluation of funded programs focus on: same scoring rubric used in year two, changes to quarterly continuous improvement plans which assists funded programs in achieving the strongest, positive outcomes.

The United Way exemplifies what every thriving community needs - collaboration, accountability, and compassion. The Community Impact Fund grant process not only forces you to reexamine your impact, but also the outcomes and efficiency in which you operate. Understanding that data is important not because of the numeral value it represents, but instead because of the people and their circumstances it represents. The responsibility to assist those with the greatest need is that of the entire community, and the United Way provides the vehicle to support the infrastructure of those community organizations by effectively encouraging collaboration, assuring accountability, and showing compassion. - Lee Shaw, Jr., Scout Executive/CEO, Boy Scouts of America - W.D. Boyce Council

HOME FOR ALL CONTINUUM OF CARE

Access to stable housing is the foundation upon which all other support, including health care, is built.

Since 2016, the Home for All Continuum of Care has partnered with the Heart of Illinois United Way to build a sustainable collaboration of more than 50 cross-sector organizations aligning to end homelessness in central Illinois through support of individuals and families seeking permanent, safe, and affordable housing.

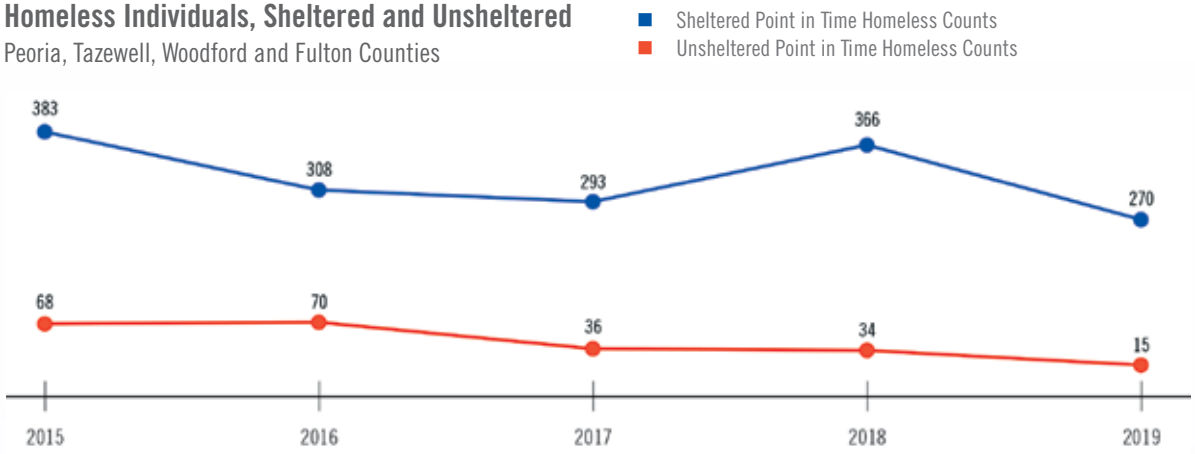
While there is not a single solution to address homelessness, our interim shelter model utilizes HUD's Housing First approach to prioritize the basic need of shelter before other needs. With comprehensive, coordinated services, individuals and families are able to maintain self-sufficiency and improve their quality of life.

HOME FOR ALL
Continuum of Care

The new Home for All branding rolled out in early 2020 as a way to better connect policymakers, funders and everyday people to the work the Continuum of Care is doing to lift people out of crisis and into a position to become healthy and productive members of our community.

Homeless Individuals, Sheltered and Unsheltered

Peoria, Tazewell, Woodford and Fulton Counties



HUD requires a point-in-time count of homeless persons who are living on the streets, places not meant for human habitation, emergency shelters and transitional housing. This is a census data point that counts homeless people on one night in a designated community. In 2019, Home for All Continuum of Care reported 285 total homeless individuals, down slightly from 2018.

HEART OF ILLINOIS 2-1-1 INFORMATION AND REFERRAL

Heart of Illinois 2-1-1 is a comprehensive information and referral line to connect callers to critical health and human care programs in Peoria, Tazewell, Woodford, Marshall, Stark and Putnam counties.

A partnership between the Heart of Illinois United Way and Advanced Medical Transport of Central Illinois, 2-1-1 ensures that individuals do not go without essential services when help is readily available. In addition, the data collected by 2-1-1 can be used to anticipate demand for health and human care services and identify emerging social trends to support community planning efforts.

- Since March 2020, 2-1-1 has had a 200% Increase in calls for help including a dramatic increase in the number of people seeking assistance for food, housing and health needs
- Last year, more than 60% of 2-1-1 requests were for help related to housing, utility assistance and food

HEART OF ILLINOIS UNITED WAY COMMUNITY ASSESSMENT

Since 2005, we have assessed issues and trends impacting the communities we serve using secondary data to identify, assess and support key areas of social concern.

Through the 2020 Heart of Illinois United Way Community Assessment, our United Way examines the most critical community needs and then collaborates with a wide variety of community partners to support the education, financial stability and health of all people in central Illinois.

Included in the 2020 publication is a special research section on how health and human care services are vital to developing workforce readiness throughout the region.

HOOT GIBSON AWARD

Since 1985, the Heart of Illinois United Way has recognized a volunteer who spends countless hours working without fanfare to help others. The annual Hoot Gibson award is presented in memory of Horace J. "Hoot" Gibson, who pursued his goals in a quiet, determined manner, caring little if others knew of his accomplishments.

As a new Heart of Illinois United Way board member and co-founder of a new nonprofit, I am in a very unique position to see how vital funding is from both perspectives-the grantor and the grantee. Being a new grant reviewer, it is a very exciting opportunity to see the different programs and concepts that organizations are bringing forth to better our community and I know firsthand the impact these funds will have on the organizations and their ability to fulfill their goals and initiatives. My responsibilities as an Executive Director are unlimited, and yet I still find time to volunteer my time and services to United Way because I realize the significant importance of this organization. - Nikki Romain, ART Inc.

In the 1940's the AFL-CIO and the United Way formed a cooperative working relationship to provide services to members of labor unions, their families and the communities they call home. Heart of Illinois United Way AFL-CIO Labor Volunteers help with special events such as blood drives, food drives, the West Central Illinois Building and Construction Trades Council Golf Outing, the annual United Way Campaign and much more. With their fellow union members, they provide thousands of hours and dollars of in-kind service.

Youth United was a formative servant leadership and philanthropy experience. Throughout my involvement, I gained valuable community leadership skills, deepened my appreciation for and understanding of civic engagement, and broadened my exposure to the missions of so many outstanding and impactful local non-profit organizations. Of all the things I learned, most important was the idea that you are never too young to give back and make a difference. - Lindsey Birkel, Caterpillar, former chair of Youth United and current United Way Board Member

GENERATION UNITED

Founded in 2009, Generation United (GEN U) is the Heart of Illinois United Way's young professionals' organization providing opportunities for community engagement. As a founding member and former chair of GENeration United, it has been a joy to see GenU still 10 years later engaging many young professionals in Heart of Illinois United Way's work. Opportunities to combine service, philanthropy, and socialization are key to finding your passion both professionally and personally. GENeration United continues to be a strong and energetic group of emerging leaders dedicated to making an impact in central Illinois. - Nathan Thomas, Bradley University, former chair of GENeration United and current United Way Board Member

2019 DAY OF CARING & BACK TO SCHOOL FOOD DRIVE

Each year, the Heart of Illinois United Way's Day of Caring promotes volunteerism by bringing together volunteers from local companies and organizations. Last year, we matched 1,700 volunteers to projects throughout central Illinois. Collectively, these volunteers provided more than 5,000 volunteer hours at our partner agencies and schools. In addition, our 2019 Back to School Food Drive collected enough food to provide approximately 10,000 weekend snack packs that benefitted low-income children who depend on school meals during the week.
